Symposium H4 on Hydrological Interactions Between Atmosphere, Soil and Vegetation has been organized with the intentions described above, and has been divided into four topics selected to cover the main fields of interest for hydrologists.

Hydrological Interactions Between Atmosphere, Soil and

The focus was on physical interactions between the continents and the atmosphere through exchanges of mass, energy, and momentum, with an emphasis on the relevance of those interactions to natural ...

NATURAL PROCESSES OF GROUND-WATER AND SURFACE-WATER INTERACTION The Hydrologic Cycle and Interactions of Ground Water and Surface Water The hydrologic cycle describes the continuous movement of water above, on, and below the surface of the Earth. The water on the Earth's surface occurs as streams, lakes, approach to investigate interactions between soil thermal and hydrological dynamics in the response of Alaska ecosystems to fire disturbance. Such an approach requires a modeling framework that incorporates the interactions among organic horizon thickness and properties, soil temperature, and soil moisture into an ecosystem model. It is

A Land-Surface Hydrology Parameterization With Subgrid Variability for General Circulation Models ... mass, and momentum between the atmosphere and the land surface are a recent ... and hydrologic interactions that control bio- sphere-atmosphere interactions. For this reason, BATS and

A Land&Surface Hydrology Parameterization With Subgrid

The interactions between the components of the climate system are enriched by the nonlinearity of the water phase transitions. The nonlinear character of the phase transitions of water suggests that the climate should be particularly sensitive to hydrological processes, especially in the tropics.
